Reason for Revision of Forecast for Consolidated Financial Results for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2027 which was announced on May 14, 2026

During the first quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027, the Japanese yen remained weaker against the U.S. dollar than initially assumed.
In addition, considering the market environment going forward, the Company has revised the average exchange rates for the Japanese yen to the U.S. dollar for the full year ending March 31, 2027, from JPY145 to JPY155.

As a result, profits at all levels are expected to exceed the forecast announced on May 14, 2026. Accordingly, the Company has revised upward its consolidated earnings forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027, as shown above.

* Basic earnings per share attributable to owners of the parent is calculated based on profit for the year attributable to owners of the parent.

* The forecast for consolidated financial results of the Company is based on management's assumptions and beliefs taking into account information currently available to it. Therefore, please be advised that the actual results of the Company could differ materially from those described in these forward-looking statements as a result of numerous factors, including general economic conditions in the principal markets of the Company, its consolidated subsidiaries and its affiliates accounted for using the equity method, and fluctuation of foreign exchange rates, as well as other factors detailed from time to time.
