[C] OtherLoss related to airbag inflators

Honda has been conducting market-based measures in relation to airbag inflators. Honda recognizes a provision for specific warranty costs when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. There is a possibility that Honda will need to recognize additional provisions when new evidence related to the product recalls arise, however, it is not possible for Honda to reasonably estimate the amount and timing of potential future losses as of the date of this report.

Losses related to the reassessment of the automobile electrification strategy

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries had historically entered into contracts with suppliers for the procurement of parts. During the year ended March 31, 2026, the Company decided to cancel the development and market launch of EV models that were planned for production in North America. Accordingly, during the current fiscal year, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries initiated an assessment to identify the impact of such decision on the relevant suppliers. Depending on the outcome of the ongoing discussions with each affected supplier, additional payments to suppliers may arise in the future. In estimating the amount of additional payments, it is necessary to consider the progress of the assessment and discussions. Accordingly, due to high degree of uncertainty regarding the amount and timing of such additional payments, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries are currently unable to reasonably estimate such amount with sufficient reliability.
